Regarding The Black-Jew Dialogues

To Whom it May Concern:

The Black-Jew Dialogues was well received and timely, especially given all the controversy surrounding issues related to race in the nation. Ron and his team were excellent emissaries of an inclusive message that was truthful, accessible, and poignant. If you are considering a diversity program I would encourage you to strongly consider this one.

I would also encourage you to open it up your entire community as a way to create more conversations on a very difficult, yet timely issue. Comedy allows people to access information in a less defensive way, and this presentation definitely did that.

I appreciate all the work that was put into making it to Albany and then driving to Portland all in the same day. I encourage folks to consider the presentation in the future.

Sincerely,
