To Whom It May Concern:

If you are looking for a new and dynamic way to engage students, staff, and faculty in expanding their understanding of diversity, then Dialogues on Diversity's "Get Out of Your Bubble!" is the program for you!

It's entertaining, funny, interactive and creates space for participants to look at diversity through a different lens. A lens that's brings us closer together instead of pushing us further apart.

I wish could've had this experience during my time as an undergraduate.
